—The Rockford street railway system has been purchased by a Chicago syndicate. Who will buy the Janesville system?

—Mr. George Baldwin, son of Mr. B. H. Baldwin, has been promoted to a consularship, and is now running south between Janesville and Chicago. His many friends will rejoice in his promotion.

—Saturday afternoon as a young son of R. C. Jenkins, the milkman, was driving down east Milwaukee street, a team hitched in front of Knuff & Allen's, backed against his buggy and smashed one of the wheels.

—The Rev. E. Eaton spoke to full congregations both morning and evening yesterday at Court Street church, delivering two very excellent sermons. He is a forcible speaker, and his pastorate promises to be successful.

—Buchholz & Co. shipped a car load of wagnettes to Portland, Oregon, today. The load is composed of nine of these handsome vehicles, which will thoroughly sustain the reputation this company has earned for fine work.

—We were not aware of the good will and love which Captain Norcross bears towards boys until informed that the captain forgave them unconditionally, the other day, refusing to take the money from the boys to pay for his windows.

—A horse belonging to Frank Welch, which was hitched on the Corn Exchange Saturday evening, broke loose and took a little run up Wall street. He was caught near Sexton's shop by O. S. Rose, manager of the China Tea Co. No damages.

—The Kacine Journal: Men with their arms done up in a sling have been imposing upon people on the south and west sides and secured sums of money. There was nothing the matter with their arms at all and an hour after getting money they were seen in a saloon.

—Mr. Sanders of Sanders & Kinney, this morning received a communication from Germany, asking for some of Mr. Sander's short hand pamphlets. When we come to know this was from the Russian Stenographers' Association, the merits of this work will be at once recognized.

—Ole Olson played to a good house in Kenosha on Thursday evening, and so well pleased the Kenosha people that they have requested Ole and his company to play another night in that city. The company is a first class combination and will be at the opera house this evening.

—Mr. E. T. Brown, of Brown Bros. shoe store, informed a Gazette reporter this morning that he and Mr. O. A. Sanborn, of Sanborn & Co., were going out on a squirrel hunt this afternoon, and fearing his many friends might think he was romancing when he reports the result of the hunt to-night, he wished to inform them before hand, that he should tell his squirrel story correct, regardless of the number that got away.

—An error or two was made in mentioning the visit of the Beloit Academy Wheelmen on Saturday afternoon. The following are the members:—W. B. Rogers, captain; F. Lee Rust, Phil. Rogers, F. A. Chadbourne, T. W. Chadbourne, George Swiler, Vin Adams, B. Z. Terry, J. W. VanVeen and Mr. Swallow. The club took dinner at Tuckwood's and after taking in the sights of the city started for home at 4:10 and arrived in Beloit in one hour and fourteen minutes, which the members of the club consider fast time, if not the best ever made between the two cities.

—Saturday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, John Downs, delivery clerk for W. T. Vankirk, went out to deliver goods to George Irvine, out on North Bluff street. He left a boy in the wagon to hold the horse while he went in with the goods. The boy got tired of waiting and went home. The horse soon became aware of the fact and also started out. No damage was done; but as John wended his way home on foot, with a basket on either arm, he concluded that a hitching post was better than a "kid" to leave in charge of a team.

—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Cunningham will deeply sympathize with them when they learn of the death of their little boy, which occurred this morning. The little one was only twenty-six days old, and had been sick a few days, and was a great sufferer. Last week it was better and there appeared some hope of its recovering. Yesterday it was taken worse, and the little spark of life went out this morning. Funeral from the home, No. 204 South Main street, at two o'clock to-morrow. After the services the remains will be taken to Milton for burial.

—A letter received this morning from Mr. Clarence Jackson, who is now with his family in Los Angeles, Cal., says the weather there is like our finest June weather. Mr. Jackson says he is very much pleased with the country. During his stay in Salt Lake City he had a good opportunity to study the city and people, and says, that since the Mormons received such a defeat in the last election, the city is having a tremendous boom. Real estate is all over hearted about on the street and everywhere else. Mr. Jackson will remain some time in California.

—At the regular meeting of the Business Men's Association this evening, the question of the winter meeting of the Wisconsin Press Association will be discussed. The meeting occurs in February, and the association have expressed through their president, a desire to meet in Janesville. The expense attending the meeting is not necessarily heavy, and the business men of Janesville can not afford to let the opportunity pass unnoticed. The meeting should be well attended this evening, and arrangements made to extend a cordial invitation to the association.

—The "special" vestibule from St. Paul to Washington, on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, having on board a delegation of Knights Templar, passed through Janesville Sunday morning a few minutes in advance of the regular south bound St. Paul express. The special consisted of an engine, two baggage cars, three Pullmans, and a dining car. In passing through this section of country the train was making very fast time. The engineer whistled for the crossing on approaching the city from the north, made short halt at the depot, and then took a slide over the Monterey bridge, and the next seen of the train was when it was flying across Rock Prairie, Chicagoward at a speed approximating nearly a mile a minute. The party was bound to get there.

—Members of the National Guard as well as regular army officers, will find the October Cosmopolitan an interesting number, not only on account of Captain King's story, which is purely a military novel, and illustrated from life scenes at West Point and on the plains, but on account of an exhaustive article on the French writer, Mme. Juliet Adam, writing under the nom de plume of Count Paul Vasil, and elaborately illustrated from the pictures of French military life which have made Details so famous. Carpenter's article on Egypt, which will appear in the same number, is marvellously illustrated from photographs taken in the country of the Nile, and showing, as no description can, the people, their houses, and their lives.

—The coming and going of people we know.

—Mr. O. Brand visited in Chicago Sunday.

—Mr. I. C. Brownell is in Chicago today on business.

—Judson W. and Judson L. Robinson, of the four-mile bridge, have gone down the river on a pleasure and camping trip.

—John Habel, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, is at the Windsor. Mr. Habel is the expert in charge of the new machinery at the gas works.

—Mr. M. G. Jeffries, of the firm of Fethers, Jeffries & Field, left for Elk-horn this morning, the circuit court opening there to-day.

—W. G. Roberts, formerly of the Gazette, now representing the Chicago Daily Herald, is in the city in the interest of the Herald company.

—Major Giles G. Horton spent Sunday with his family in this city. He is now employed by the Studebaker Brothers, carriage manufacturers, of Chicago.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Phelps leave to-morrow for southern points. They will visit St. Louis and Walnut Ridge, Arkansas, returning in about two weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nels Carlson will leave to-morrow for a pleasure trip to Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Carlson will stop in Denver to visit with a brother, and Mr. Carlson will proceed on a sight seeing tour, going to Salt Lake City and probably to the Pacific coast. They will be absent about one month.

Beecham's Pills act like magic on a weak stomach.

Judge Patterson's attention is occupied with an assent and battery case from Froville. We will mention no names as the case is so trivial and nonsensical as to be unworthy of notice.

Not so with Justice Prichard, the room is crowded with anxious men to listen to the evidence of one of the greatest dog cases on record. Mr. Ed. Ehrlinger proposes to have pay for his valuable letter which Mr. William Douglas, of Plymouth, shot a few days ago. Mr. Ehrlinger alleges damages to the amount of $100, Mr. Douglas claiming the dog a nuisance, and that he was constantly hanging around his house and frightening his little girl. Just how the case will be decided remains to be seen, as it is being hotly contested on both sides.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be one—irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past century is to admit that only one remedy has met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms yield to it.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 33 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 49 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 45 and 58 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 25 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 51 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 47 and 77 degrees above zero.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked, I feel well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur not only in the best regulated families, but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvation Oil convenient.

WOMAN'S BELIEF COMERS.

W. H. Margaret Woman's Relief Corps will meet in Post hall Tuesday, October 8 at 2:30 p. m. to sew and plan work for winter use. Per vote of the Corps.

PILING IN ROCK RIVER.

The Milwaukee Street Bridge Shows Weakness in Piling.

AN OFFICIAL'S SENTIMENTS.

A Prominent Alderman Gives Expression to His Opinion of the Whole Matter.

"I tell you," remarked a prominent west side alderman this morning, while leaning against the railing of Milwaukee street bridge, "this bridge is getting weak, and the old piling is fast rotting away, and it will not be long before the bridge will go down. See there, just as how the road-bed gives under the weight of that load of grain. Now you watch and see how the old thing swings and trembles when the street car strikes it. See that, now; how long do you imagine the old thing will stand that racket? I should think Merrill would look to his gas pipes before it is too late. Yes, I am in favor of the proposition to build an over-truss iron bridge to take the place of this one. Bridges can now be built of iron very cheap, and with an iron bridge here, the water power people could no longer accuse the city of obstructing the river by piling. Do I think an iron bridge would prevent parties from building in the river? Well, that is a matter for those claiming the water lots to settle. I think the city has a right to build an iron bridge here, and I am heartily in favor of it, and believe a majority of the council will support the proposition. I have heard it hinted that a proposition for the submission of plans will come before the council this evening, if so I shall support it. I would like to see a first class over-truss bridge here in place of this one. This bridge is hardly wide enough and I am in favor of making it the full width of the street."

The alderman making the above remarks has always taken a very conservative course in the common council, and spoke with much enthusiasm. He had heard many complaints from the power owners in regard to obstructions in the river, and was of the opinion that the city should first show a disposition to obey the ordinances, by placing no more piling in the stream, and by removing those now in as soon as a new bridge could be built.

Another alderman, one who is enthusiastic in his opposition against allowing piling to be placed in the stream for building purposes, said rather than see more buildings put by the bridge, he would favor the condemnation and clearing of the old bridge, and the building of a new one at some other point, if it was only practicable, but such an idea could not be favored on account of the influence of property owners on East and West Milwaukee street. He further remarked, that as soon as Carpenter is allowed to build his proposed block Jeffries would put up another building. Jackson and Merrill would follow suit, and Colvin would extend his building, the Boston bakery—to the center of the river, claiming that one had as much right to drive piling and build a sheet-iron veneered fire trap as the other felt free to do. And where, then would your water power be? "I tell you what it is, I am ready to follow this thing up in the courts until one side or the other is financially swamped," said the alderman. "If the matter comes up to-night, I will show you how I feel."

He was asked if he favored the building of an iron bridge and his answer was: "You bet I am, or anything else that will shut these fellows off from building. It is a shame to allow the building to go ahead. Yes, I see Carpenter has cut his raft loose up there and is ready to commence driving piles—there will be some chin music, if nothing more."

The crowd commenced to gather on the bridge to see D. C. Ward with his pile driver sail down to the bridge with a load of piles, ready to commence work on E. F. Carpenter's new building. Carpenter takes all objections in the utmost good nature, simply telling his opposers to "fire away."

The council will be called upon this evening to take some decided action in relation to the matter of driving piles in the river.

AN INDIAN FORD FINE.

THE RESIDENCE OF HENRY WHITTAKER DESTROYED.

Between six and seven o'clock on Sunday morning the residence of Mr. Henry Whittaker, situated on the hill just south of Indian Ford, was discovered on fire, and the neighborhood was immediately aroused. Notwithstanding every exertion was made, the house, with nearly all its contents was consumed. The loss will be about six thousand dollars. The building was valued at about four thousand dollars, and contents at two thousand dollars. There was an insurance on the property amounting to three thousand dollars—$2,000 being in the Town of Harmony Co., and $1,000 in the Milwaukee National. The fire was undoubtedly caused by an overheated stove, the pipe of which passed through the floor above where the fire was first discovered. The house was a large one, occupying a prominent position on the hill just this side of the little hamlet.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 33 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 49 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 45 and 58 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 25 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 51 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 47 and 77 degrees above zero.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked, I feel well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur not only in the best regulated families, but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvation Oil convenient.

FATHER JOSEPH DUTTON.

HE WRITES A LETTER TO THE OLD SERGEANT-MAYOR OF THE THIRTIETH.

The Kacine Journal, of Saturday, publishes the following.—Mr. J. W. Hall was the sergeant-major of the Thirtieth Wisconsin volunteers, of which regiment Father Dutton was also a member.

Mr. J. W. Hall, of the American express office, yesterday received a letter which was a mixture of more than ordinary interest and bearer of welcome tidings.

During the war, Mr. Hall, who then resided near Janesville, Wis., enlisted for service and went to the front with many more brave lads in defense of his country. In the same company as Mr. Hall there was a young man named E. Dutton, who was of a very religious turn of mind, by creed a Baptist, yet with a very good soldier was he and of so admirable a disposition that he made many friends among his comrades.

When he returned with his regiment to Wisconsin he gave himself up to the service of another commander, and entered college with a view of becoming an Episcopal clergyman, but for some unaccountable reason he again changed his belief and entered a Catholic university and became a Catholic priest and was thereafter known as Father Joseph Dutton.

So diligently did the young man apply himself to his christian work that he rarely found time to write to his friends, in truth Mr. Hall had never received a letter from him; but through members of Father Dutton's family he learned that the young priest was located in or about New Orleans and later on, San Antonio, where he was sent as a missionary among the heathen in those islands.

It was from this old comrade then that Mr. Hall received this welcome letter, the contents of which, though brief, betrayed that no more sincere and self sacrificing servant of God has done more than this same man.

Grim death last April removed from a mission to those islands to his final reward a man whom all the world praised for his sacrifice; for the great salvation of others, he was willing to suffer banishment from all the world that a few hundred unfortunates might enjoy the blessings of the christian religion. The death of Father Damien; of leprosy, in Sandwich Islands, was telegraphed all over the civilized world. What was it that made him so noted a man, that singled him out of the mediocrity of the clergy and showed the plaudits of all christendom upon his head? It was because he had made the greatest sacrifice which man can make that several hundred outcasts from society, lepers, night howls of the souls redemption through Christ, and that these who were without hope in this life might look beyond the narrow pale, and find joy and peace in the hope of eternal life.

It was with fears and doubts that christian people asked themselves, will there be found another who will sacrifice himself as a victim to the inevitable scourge of leprosy, a loathsome, lingering, wasting away, and minister to the poor outcasts? To this silent appeal for aid Father Joseph Dutton, the brave Wisconsin soldier, responded, and although he had been connected with the leper mission since July, 1886, his present relation brings him in direct contact with the outcasts, and it is only a matter of time when he too must succumb to the dread disease. In his letter to Mr. Hall, Father Dutton says: "There are now 1,200 lepers in the Catholic Mission at Kalawao, Molokai, and they are all as well as could be expected, and happy. He also encloses as a memento a few leaves from the grave of the lamented Father Damien, which Mr. Hall prizes quite highly; and justly does he prize them for they speak not only of the service of a noble man, but coming as they do from a dear friend they revive pleasant reminiscences in memory's garden spot."

When you need a good, safe laxative, ask your druggist for a box of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You will find that they give perfect satisfaction. For indigestion, torpid liver, and sick headache, there is nothing superior. Leading physicians recommend it.

Professor Gauthier, of Paris, states that certain vital processes of the body develop purifying substances in the tissues, which, if not speedily eliminated, produce disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effects the removal of these substances, and thereby preserves the health.
